Here and There

Editorial By ALEX. H. WASHBURN

THIS human note in today's news from Natal, Brazil: "While the Colonel labored on the plane, his wife went sight-seeing." It sounds like the story of a couple of average Americans on an automobile tour into a neighboring state, the man tinkering with his machine, while the woman goes window-shopping. It doesn't sound at all like the story of a famous aviator, a wealthy heiress, and a four-continent flight to explore possible new ocean airways.

Christmas Tree to Be Erected on City Hall Square

Hope Garden Club Announces Plans for Holiday Observance

CHRISTMAS CAROLS

Music Club Asked to Prepare Program for an Evening Indoors

The Hope Garden club is sponsoring a community Christmas tree, on the lawn of Hope city hall, Miss Louise Knobel, club president, announced Thursday. Plans are now being completed to decorate and light with Christmas colored electric globes, a large tree which is to be decorated the square during holiday week, starting a few days before Christmas.

The Music club is being asked to prepare a special music program, consisting of Christmas carols, one night before Christmas in this manner, in the city hall auditorium.

It was intended to save the Christmas tree, Miss Knobel said, but some culprit celebrated the ending of the holiday season by breaking many of them, she said. On this account, various civic and community clubs are being asked to contribute $1 each to pay for tree decorations and lights.

"We had him surrounded Tuesday," the superintendent said, "and he knew it. Wednesday he sent us word he'd give himself up and told us where to meet him. We met him there, about a mile from the farm, and brought him back."

Arkansas Reaches Bond Compromise

Auto License May Be Increased for Required Revenue

State and Bondholders Reach Basis for Compromise PRORATE REVENUES

State Will Give Creditors What Revenue Is in Sight

LITTLE ROCK.—(AP)—An understanding over the major principles of the refunding plan for Arkansas 146-million-dollar highway indebtedness was reached Thursday by Governor Futrell's subcommittee.

While it stressed the fact that discussions to date have brought no definite or fixed agreements, a basis for a plan has been reached between the two largest creditor groups with the state which is regarded by the subcommittee as presaging early refunding.

As suggested, the refunding plan contemplates the raising of some additional revenues through revision of the motor vehicle license taxes and other sources, and prorating of revenue among the creditor groups.

Material Barred on Sanitary Jobs

Extent of CWA Aid to Be 20 Workmen in This County

D. M. Finley, supervisor of Sanitation projects in Hempstead county under the Civil Works Administration, was informed Thursday that material for construction would not be furnished by the federal government.

Mr. Finley was notified of this change in a letter from James P. Slater of Little Rock, assistant state director of the sanitary program. A paragraph said:

"I wish you would accept apologies from the department for some mistakes that were made. However, everything has been so rushed, and we had some misleading statements that placed us in error, but now that we are on our feet, we shall be sure of information before giving it out."

Last week it was stated in The Star that the federal government would furnish both material and labor for the building of concrete and fly-proof houses for any rural resident in the county.

Information received Thursday said that no material would be supplied by the government. The county has been allotted 20 laborers for this program.

It was stated that material for converting old out-houses into new ones would cost a nominal sum of from 80 cents to $2. Construction for brand new out-houses would cost approximately $6.

Ickes Assures Arkansas PWA Loans Are Made on Merits Only

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Senator Hattie W. Caraway conferred Wednesday with Harold Ickes, secretary of the interior, regarding applications for loans from Arkansas to the Public Works Administration.

Secretary Ickes said that the road bond situation in Arkansas is not affecting these applications, but that each case stands upon its own merits, and if there had been rejection or delay it was occasioned by legal, financial or engineering reasons.

Senator Saraway filed with Secretary Ickes a statement from the governor covering the road bond controversy.

Bishop H. M. Dobbs, of Shreveport, in charge of Methodist churches in Louisiana and Arkansas, will occupy the pulpit of First Methodist church in Hope Sunday morning.

2 of Scottsboro Negroes Must Die

First of Seven Defendants Convicted at Second Trial

DECATUR, Ala.—(AP)—Two of seven negro defendants in the Scottsboro case are under sentence to die in the electric chair in Kilby prison at Montgomery.

Judge W. W. Callahan, presiding, passed the formal sentences on Heywood Patterson and Clarence Norris, a few minutes after the jury in the latter case had convicted him of participating in the alleged attacks on Mrs. Victoria Price and Ruby Bates in Jackson county on March 25, 1931.

The words had hardly died in the lips of the judge Wednesday however, before a legal stop was taken to stay the execution set for Friday, February 2, 1934, and carry the fight to the higher courts.

555 Head Cleared of Sibeck Charges

Jury Acquits Steuber in Pulaski County Fraud Probe

LITTLE ROCK.—Roy E. Steuber, president of 555, Inc., was acquitted of two charges of false pretense by a jury in circuit court Wednesday. The jury deliberated only 20 minutes.

The charges dealt with business transactions between 555 and Pulaski county in 1929 and 1931.

Prosecuting Attorney Carl E. Bailey argued that Steuber had conspired with former County Judge W. F. Sibeck and others to defraud the county and that 555 was paid $20,000 for merchandise, most of which never was delivered.

Bailey said that it was undisputed that the county paid for materials that were not delivered.

Donham contended that the state had produced no evidence of Steuber's connection with any false claims, and he pointed out that no transaction was made which Steuber had not explained fully to the auditors, to the grand jury and to the court.

Many business men and the state of Arkansas had advance accounts with 555, Donham recalled, and the merchandise was kept at 555 to be delivered on demand.

Brookwood Pupils to Be Protected With High Fence

Engineer Stanford Announces Approval of CWA Project

TO REPAIR BUILDING $3,500 Job Begins Friday—Other School Projects Coming Up

Brookwood grade school building is to be repaired and a high fence protecting school-children on the grounds from tourist traffic passing through on Third street is to be constructed, it was announced Thursday by R. B. Stanford, county engineer for the Civil Works Administration. Work begins Friday.

Mr. Stanford received approval Thursday morning on the Brookwood school project, totaling approximately $3,500—one of the first of many county school projects now on file, and for which approval is to be given at an early date.

"Not all the CWA money is going into road-work," Mr. Stanford said, "and the Brookwood job illustrates one of the many important tasks before the community besides highway construction."

Construction of a guard-fence to keep Brookwood children off Third street and its dangerous through traffic, has been advocated for several years.

It was originally scheduled as a State Highway Department project by Mr. Stanford, when still district engineer in charge of the Hope office. Highway No. 67 had not then been constructed on the new route to Emmet, but the engineer knew that it would follow within a year or two.

Shortage of funds, however, prevented the highway department from considering this school aid.

The school fence more recently was taken up by the city Parent-Teacher associations, was advocated editorially by The Star, and CWA funds finally gave the county engineer an opportunity to authorize its construction.

Harvey Couch and Charles McCain Under Senate Fire

Couch Owed Chase National, R. F. C. Loaned Roads Which Paid Bank

A "SQUEEZE" PLAY Pecora Charges They Forced L. R. & N. to Consolidate

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—Operation of a 10-million-dollar pool in Louisiana & Arkansas Railway stock was described to senate investigators Thursday by Charles S. McCain, chairman of the Chase National bank.

The pool was organized in 1928 to purchase stock in the Louisiana Railway & Navigation Co.

The participants included: Dillon, Read & Co., Harvey Couch, Rogers Caldwell, McCain, and two others.

McCain testified that the pool still owes Chase $1,200,000.

The pool borrowed a total of $2,795,444. The syndicate acquired stock in the Louisiana Railway & Navigation Co. from Mrs. Sarah Edmonson, according to Ferdinand Pecora, committee counsel, who cited proceedings before the Interstate Commerce Commission for approval of the merger of Louisiana railroad & Navigation Co. with Louisiana & Arkansas Railway Co.

Pecora read testimony before the commission in which Commissioner Woodcock questioned Frank Swacker, attorney for the Louisiana & Arkansas Railway Co.

"You don't mean they got this old lady in a tight place and are proceeding to take advantage of her, do you?" Woodcock asked.

"I suppose I cannot very well deny the fact," Swacker replied. "It is perfectly obvious. She is in a position where she had to have a lot of cash and she must sell. She wants to sell. She is much more anxious to sell than the syndicate is to buy."

McCain on Stand
WASHINGTON.—(AP)—Senate stock market investigators were told Thursday that while Harvey Couch, director of the Reconstruction Corporation, owed money to the Chase National Bank, Reconstruction loans were made to railroads that resulted in payments of more than 10 million dollars to the bank.

Charles S. McCain, chairman of the bank board, an old friend of Couch, described to the committee half a dozen railroad loans by the Reconstruction Corporation which he said permitted payment by the carriers of their indebtedness to the bank.

He also disclosed that Couch still owes the bank $153,000 jointly with associates in Arkansas.

Another loan, made individually to Couch, McCain said, was undercollateralized for six months in 1931, but has since been paid.

C. H. Moses, Little Rock, was an associate with Couch in a loan still outstanding on an original advance of $25,000.

Duckett at her home on East Third street, honoring her sister, Miss Bertha McRae, whose wedding to William Glover of Malvern is announced for Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock. The living room of the Duckett apartment was aglow with a quantity of beautiful red roses and red carnations, and a pleasing color note of yellow was carried out in the dining room, where glorious yellow chrysanthemums were gracefully arranged. Bridge was played from three tables, with the high score favor going to Miss Elizabeth Bernier. Miss McRae was presented with a dainty gift. Following the game the hostess assisted by Mrs. C. B.
Blackburn and Mrs. B. C. Shipp served a delicious salad course.

Mrs. Chas. Wingfield had as week end guests, Mrs. R. H. Reagan and Miss Elizabeth Reagan of Greenville, Texas.

ened the rooms where bridge was to Mrs. R. V. Herndon for the ladies and to E. M. McWilliams for the men. At the close of the game, a most tempting salad plate was served.

Legge Leaves His Fortune to Farm

Late Harvester King's Will Sets Up Farm Experiment Foundation

CHICAGO—Farmers of the United States as a whole will be principal beneficiaries of the estate of Alexander Legge, president of the International Harvester Company and former chairman of the Federal Farm Board, who died suddenly last Sunday.
Mr. Legge's friend, Frank O. Low-den, former governor of Illinois, Wednesday disclosed that for several months Mr. Legge had been working to perfect a philanthropic organization known as the Farm Foundation, for the improvement of farm life, and that the principal bequest in Mr. Legge's will is the sum of $500,000 to the foundation.

Prior to his death, Mr. Legge had contributed $60,000 to the foundation.
Mr. Lowden said, and interested a group of capitalists, bankers and others to share the work with him as trustees. Mr. Lowden being named chairman. As chairman of the foundation, Mr. Lowden pledged that its work as envisaged by Mr. Legge, would be carried out.

The trust agreement, by which the 21 founder trustees agreed to establish the foundation, set forth the following purposes:

1. To encourage and develop co-operative effort and community organization and consciousness as means of improving the social, economic, educational and cultural conditions of rural life.
2. To stimulate and conduct research and experimental work for the study of any economic, social, educational or scientific problem of importance to any substantial portion of the rural population of the country including problems of production, marketing and purchasing and the sound co-ordination of the agricultural with the industrial, financial and mercantile life of the country.
3. To encourage, aid or finance any university, institution, corporation or persons in the conduct of such research or experimental work.

ful information developed as a result of any such study, in such a manner as to be of practical value to the farming population.

tellectual and cultural interests and opportunities of the rural population
